SAMPLE — ILLUSTRATIVE DATA

For Acadiana / Lafayette Parish in July 2026, here is what the reported figures show, drawn from (source pending).

For buyers: During this period, there were 900 active listings on the market, a home that sold took about 45 days on the market, on average, and inventory stood at 3.5 months of supply. These are counts and averages for the period, not a forecast; what they mean for a specific search depends on the home, price range, and your financing and timeline.

For sellers: The median sale price was $250,000, the median price per square foot was $150, and 300 sales closed for the period. A median is a midpoint across many different homes; the right list price for any one property depends on its condition, location, and the current comparable sales, which Carrie can review with you.

How to read these figures

These are descriptive snapshots for July 2026, drawn from (source pending). They are not forecasts, and they are not advice about whether to buy or sell — that depends on your own situation, financing, and timeline. Market conditions vary street to street and change month to month.

For a reading tailored to a specific home, price range, or town, Carrie can pull the current numbers for your search and walk through them with you.
